

Selectmen: Spare That Tree!

The "woodsman spare that tree," and chicken and egg routine were prevalent at Monday's selectmen's meeting as an appeal was registered to preserve the elm in Shawsheen Square.

Linda Kolaski, representing the Friends of Shawsheen Neighborhood Association, appeared before the board protesting the potential removal of the giant elm in the Square. A hearing was held on its removal a week ago.

Selectman Richard J. Bowen said that in his opinion the tree was one of the few left of its type in Andover, that its removal would be a serious loss to the square and felt the selectmen should record their opposition to any removal.

Public Works Director Robert E. McQuade, who with the forestry superintendent conducts the hearings on tree removals, said the tree was not diseased. Complaints which led to the hearing involved around potential hazard to pedestrians from falling limbs; damage to the business building in the square and damage to the sidewalks around the building all from the tree.

Selectman Albert Cole, Jr. noted that the tree was there long before the business building, adding that some of the roots had to be cut to permit construction. It had

Board Calls For Valley Meeting On River Plan

A plan for total cleanup of the Merrimack River, should "be done right or not at all," in the opinion of Andover selectmen, who have authorized calling a meeting of all chief administrators in the Merrimack Valley to examine the matter.

The matter was discussed this week by the board when Acting Town Manager Sheldon S. Cohen informed them that the Merrimack Valley Planning Commission had recently accepted a $34,000 grant to the study and planning.

Cohen said the money falls way short of some $700,000 to $800,000 to do the job properly. A $34,000 grant would not even "scratch the surface," of looking into the development of an implementation plan for river cleanup.

The acting manager suggested the gathering of chief elected or appointed officials who are also members of the regional planning commission to determine if there is interest in urging the federal government to adequately fund the project.

Such a meeting is tentatively being called for next Thursday with Andover serving as host.

The 208 river cleanup program has been a source of irritation to the local board for several months. Consistently, the board has indicated that inadequate funding for the project would result in insufficient planning.

Austin Remains An Agenda Item

Although J. Maynard Austin resigned as town manager over two weeks ago, he still is a part of the matters facing the selectmen.

At this week's regular meeting of the board, a resident questioned the continued payment of the former manager over a six month period. Next Monday night, at the board's conference session, appointment of Austin as a special assistant to the manager will be proposed by Acting Town Manager Sheldon S. Cohen. The latter is a part of the agreement under which Austin submitted his resignation on Oct. 18.

Monday night Robert Levinson, 12 Birch Road, appeared before selectman asking about Mr. Austin's compensation over a six month period in view of the fact that he had resigned.

He said he was asking the questions based on what he had read in the papers. Levinson said he had no objection to the payment of the former manager for the two months and two days vacation time due Austin but wondered about the town's legal obligation to pay him for the remaining portion of a six month period.

Levinson said that he had seen a picture of Austin in the paper dressed in leisure attire and seated in an empty office, asking what justification the board could

Pupils Properly Immunized, Save One

Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert reported to the school committee Tuesday night that only one Andover pupil had been sent home earlier in the day because of lack of immunization records.

Records of several hundred youngsters have been brought up to date in the last month in an effort to comply with a new state law which states that no youngsters may be admitted to school as of Nov. 1 if they aren't properly immunized.

Seifert said that as late as last Thursday, he had to send letters to 28 parents of youngsters who hadn't had any shots at all. By Monday, he said, that number was reduced to one. He said that pupil was requested to leave school and will not be admitted until he complies with the law.

Seifert said he felt the effort had opened up a lot of eyes and heightened the public's awareness of health.

Other items on the agenda for Monday include consideration of appointing a citizen's committee to evaluate the town's options on solid waste management, appointment of a full representative to the Merrimack Valley Regional Planning Commission, and a report on the arbitration proceedings involving Andover fire fighters. An arbitration is schedule for Monday.

Separation Benefits An Answer?

School committeeman Elaine Viehmann, Andover's representative to the Mass. Association of School Committee's annual meeting in Hyannis last week, reported that one community had solved its reduction in force problems by attaching a separation benefit to the teacher's contract.

The benefit pays a senior teacher the difference between his salary and that of a beginning teacher for resigning when reduction in force becomes necessary because of declining enrollments.

She said that system experienced

French Family Gives Building In Son's Memory

Ground breaking ceremonies were held recently at Governor Dummer Academy for the new Peter Marshall French Student Union. The building is the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. V. French of Andover and their family and friends in memory of their son, Peter Marshall French.

Construction, which is expected to be completed by the end of the current academic year, will take place on a 3 1/2-acre site known as Sunset Hill opposite the Morris Frost Library on Middle Road in Byfield.

The new building, designed by architect Homer Young of Haverhill, is of Colonial design with a brick exterior. The interior of the main section comprises three levels, with a fireplace between stairs leading from the first to the second level. The building will provide approximately 3500 square feet of floor space.

"The school has never had a student center," stated Headmaster John W. Ragle, "and this handsome building will fulfill a need long felt at Governor Dummer. It will provide a means of bringing together the entire student body on campus for relaxation and for both formal and informal events."

One wing of the building will contain the student post office, a grill and snack bar, and two administrative offices. Another wing will house a small faculty apartment. Other facilities will include space for games and such activities as dances, TV watching, and music listening. Parking space for day students is planned alongside the building.

French is president of Northland Forest Products, Inc. of Kingston, New Hampshire. Mrs. Shirley French is a member of the Governor Dummer Board of Trustees.

Mineral Club In Session

"Mineral collecting in South America" is to be the subject of a talk to be given by Mrs. Pat Prall at the Merrimack Valley Mineral Club meeting on Monday, Nov. 7.

Mrs. Prall has traveled extensively in South America during the past two and a half years, particularly in Argentina, Brazil and Peru. She has done extensive collecting of minerals and gem stones in these areas and is to exhibit some of her better specimens. She will also bring some of her surplus material which will be for sale. Mrs. Prall is from Carlisle, where she operates a mineral shop named "Rocks in Your Head".

This is to be held in the meeting room of the Bay State National Bank at 84 Main St., Andover at 8 p.m. Visitors interested in minerals or gems will be welcome.

At the last meeting of the club the officers for the coming year were elected as follows: president, Albert Meisenger of Andover, vice president, Henry Pestana of Tewksbury, secretary, Peter Pingree of Andover and treasurer, Robert Hatton of Andover. Meetings are planned for the first Monday of each month during the winter to be followed by field trips in the spring and summer.

The next Pot Luck Luncheon sponsored by the Natural Foods Co-op will be held Nov. 9 at Turningpoint, 13 Essex Street. Anyone in the community interested in natural foods and their preparation is invited to attend. Admission is a prepared dish accompanied by its recipe.

The luncheon will begin at noon and will be followed by a special program. Mrs. Cathy Murphy of North Andover will discuss Nutrition and the Hyper-active Child. Mrs. Murphy helped in organizing the local chapter of the Feingold Association made up of women interested in learning more about the effects of diet on hyperactivity.

This program is open to the public and babysitting will be available.

TO: Postal Patrons of Andover

As you are aware, the Postal Service has announced recently that our Ballardvale and Shawsheen Stations are to remain in operation, and our 71 Main Street office is to remain in service with an approximate clerk force of five (5) men.

Postal Clerk and Letter Carrier Union Officers have been informed that the original move of the carrier force and that portion of the clerk force has been postponed until 28 January 1978.

Members of the Carrier and Clerk Unions at Andover remain convinced that Postal Service for the town of Andover will continue to deteriorate as a result of this directed move to Lawrence.

Although 9,164 postal patrons had signed the petition to retain our postal service in its entirety in Andover (Status-Quo), the only positive results of our collective efforts have been retention of the two stations whose future beyond 28 September 1978 is uncertain, and a five (5) man clerk force to service daily transactions at the main post office.

Postal service in Andover as all of us know has eroded to the point of unsatisfactory performance. The move to Lawrence we feel will cause further erosion of your service.

Your petitions have been mailed to all elected officials from the Town level to the Federal level. To date, these officials have acknowledged receipt of them and that is all they have done.

We members of the Postal Clerk and Letter Carrier Unions have done all in our power to retain your postal service in Andover. We thank everyone who has worked in the petition drive and the petitioners themselves for their support in this effort.

We are going to Lawrence on 28 January 1978 unless your elected officials take action to stop the move.

Arthur R. Taylor, left, former CBS president discussed the role of the public in governing television viewing during program conducted by Forge, this past weekend. With Taylor are Dr. Otis Maxfield, Warren A. Lewis, chairman and Dr. Glen Gulezian, executive director of Forge.

TV Change Up To Public

Arthur R. Taylor, former president of CBS and the founder of the "family viewing" concept, told an audience in Andover Sunday that broadcast programming must change radically in the next few years and that it is their responsibility to see to it that change does occur.

Taylor, a guest speaker in the FORGE Exchange Series, spoke at Memorial Hall Library.

He told the audience that the public should cease to feel like a helpless victim being shouted at by a voice they cannot answer and begin to get actively involved with the broadcasting industry (which he several times referred to as "the great megaphone"). He urged people who feel that broadcasting practices and programs conflict with public values, that what they see on their "tubes" is obscene and tasteless, to insist that their voices be heard by decision makers.

The alternative to change motivated by public concern, he said, is change prescribed by federal regulation, an alternative he described as unacceptable and unnecessary.

In an informal question and answer session following his address, Taylor said that what we see on our television sets will not change "until the concerns of the FORGE's of the world are multiplied a thousand times."

FORGE (Forum for Renewal, Growth and Exploration) is a new resource center for Andover and surrounding communities working to provide education, service, and research programs that promote personal growth and strengthen the family unit.

Organist Named

Ivar Sjostrom, well known Boston area organist, has been appointed as interim organist at the Unitarian Universalist Church of Andover, to serve for November and December, during the recovery of regular Music Director Harriet Rudd from an accident.

Andover resident Sjostrom has spent his career in church music, as organist to congregations in the Greater Boston area. At the Andover church he will serve not only as organist, but also as choir director, and he invites all interested voices to join the eight-person choir already formed; rehearsals are Sunday mornings at 9:30 a.m. at the church.

According to the U.S. Department of Labor, the employment outlook for drywall workers is expected to grow faster than the average for all occupations through the mid-1980s.

Homecoming Activities Enjoyable

A.H.S. Notebook

By Renee Pruneau

Last weekend was Homecoming Weekend at Andover High. The school was a buzz with preparations as well as various activities to help sweep all of the students into the "school spirit".

Monday was red-white-and-blue day; students dressed up in our Country's colors to help show their support to the Senior Class, sponsors or this event.

Tuesday was Girls' Slave Day. The boys were obliged to bow to the wishes of the girls. Some of the boys were asked to sing their own renditions of such songs as "Row-Row-Row-Your Boat" and "God Bless America" while others had a much easier day carrying books, sharpening pencils and tying shoelaces.

Wednesday was "revenge day", or Boys' Slave Day. The boys (many of whom had lists) had a chance to retaliate against their female schoolmates. Aside from having their books carried for them, they were carried to their classes and once there, watched as the girls skipped around the room or wore large bows in their hair. Some girls sang, "Mickey Mouse" to their lunch partners and still others did jumping jacks in the hallway.

Thursday was Indian Day. Students dressed up to help show support of their

Jubilee Year England

On To Birmingham

By Raymond B. DeRuisseau

In the center of Cleveland County is Middlesboro, vibrant with industrial activity. The river Tees serves as an avenue leading thither and yon to multiple facilities serving the nation's and international markets. Here are an iron ore terminal, steelworks, shipyards, a North Sea oil terminal and the enormous ICI petrochemical complex. Cleveland is also in on the North Sea oil development picture. Platform Gaythorpe Two was built at Teesside.

Though we were given an audio-visual overview of all that is going on, we found it too much to digest in a span of 20 minutes. IPSM members were taken on a motor-coach tour and again we saw new buildings, a superb new hotel and everywhere we sensed activity. So much activity that it became impossible to focus on one particular point. Modernization with the inevitable work simplification keynote continuing development and planning. A nuclear power station, close to the mouth of the Tees is a relatively new source of energy.

At noon we returned to the municipal buildings in Middlesboro for a luncheon at which we were the guests of the Cleveland County Council and County Councillor Arthur Scott Cunningham, its chairman. Chatting with County officials the question of nationalized industry arose. "Everything except textiles", was the response to our question as to just what was under government control. Steel, coal, gas and oil, railroads, telephone and mining are all regulated. As an aside, one gentleman told us that the national telephone service comes under the jurisdiction of the postal service.

Following lunch and in the first rain we had seen during the entire trip, we boarded our coach and under motorcycle escort left for Darlington and our first experience with British Railways.

The railway station at Darlington is large, clean and very busy with trains pulling into platforms with heavy-traffic regularity. Our train was delayed due to an accident along the line somewhere but we finally boarded for our next destination, Birmingham in the Midlands.

British trains we found are clean and very comfortable. Our train was crowded but we found seats opposite two young Newcastle college students on their way home for the Summer holiday. The railway cars are of the familiar format. Familiar because they have been seen so often in the movies and on TV. The passageway is on the outside of the car along the windows with doors opening to compartments with facing seats, each accommodating four passengers.

As the train began picking up speed, we settled down and soon were chatting with the bearded young men. They were very pleasant and when one of them discovered that we were from Massachusetts and specifically close to Boston, he inquired "How much is a dinner at Pier 4 now?". The old small world saw was banded about after that surprising question. It turned out that the young man had been in New England before and had been someone's guest at the Hub's noted restaurant. He added that he was leaving for Long Island and Washington the following week and that he would complete his visit in Holderness, New Hampshire! How did he travel here? Backpacking, using his thumb and a small British flag. The train was swift and ran on an excellent roadbed. evidently well tended. Leeds, Sheffield and Derby were left behind and we were soon on the outskirts of Birmingham and in the famed Midlands.

Now we began to see the tall apartment buildings which eventually caused us to dub Birmingham the city of the high rises. Standing in one spot and looking in one direction, we counted 26 of these apartment buildings. Similar numbers of them rise at all points of the compass. The buildings are from 20 to 24 stories tall and all look practically new. That was our first impression of Birmingham but we were to see much more of it.

We were met by Gordon Rostance of the Central Office of Information and Gordon was our guide for the four days of activity ahead. The motorcoach took us directly to the eye opening and superb Metropole Hotel, an ultra modern hostelry in the Grand Hotel tradition. This new luxury hotel contains 500 twin bedded rooms, penthouse suites, a lakeside restaurant and all the amenities found in today's super hotels. Alongside, but unoccupied, is the Warwick Hotel, also brand new and offering, a brochure states, cheaper accommodation in 175 single rooms.

The Metropole is an integral part of yet another grandiose undertaking, The National Exhibition Center. From this centrally located complex we were scheduled to fan out in many directions and visit rebuilt Coventry, Stratford Upon Avon, The International Agricultural Fair and make a visit to one of the famous country homes now open to the public. An interesting four days lay before us.

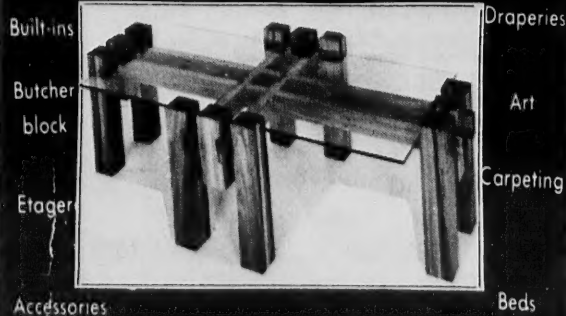

Is It Cleveland?

It could be Cleveland, Ohio but isn't. Middlesboro is the center of activity in Cleveland County, In right foreground is the new home of the Cleveland County Council, center for planning and development for this industrial area.

Warrior Booters Gain Tourney Berth

By Rick Harrison

"Our most recent game last Saturday against Chelmsford was the best team game we've played this year. That's what we've been looking for and working for all season, and hopefully it will carry over into the State Tournament."

Andover High soccer Coach Dave Amundsen was obviously pleased with the Golden Warriors' play last week, as the varsity regained its scoring touch, won three games impressively, moved back into second place in the Merrimack Valley Conference, and qualified for the Eastern Mass. State Tournament (Division I).

That's quite a lot to accomplish in one week, but the AHS booters did it with successive victories over Tewksbury (2-0), Lawrence High (4-0) and strong Chelmsford (3-1).

The sweep boosted Andover's overall record to 8-2-5 for 21 points, and there is just one regular season game remaining prior to the tournament which opens early next week.

The Warriors will host St. John's Prep of Danvers, whom they tied 0-0 the first time around, tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 p.m. at the high school pitch. The JVs will square off simultaneously at West Elementary School.

Andover should learn its opponent in the single-elimination EMass. Tournament late this weekend, and in all probability the first game will be next Tuesday or Wednesday afternoon.

This will mark the first post-season action for members of this year's AHS team. The Warriors last qualified for the tournament in 1974, and actually the 1975 and 1976 clubs were the only two not to earn a tourney berth.

About the only sad note of the entire week was the loss of junior striker Gary Cohen, who suffered a broken wrist diving for a ball near midfield just three minutes from the end of the Chelmsford game.

"I gained a lot of respect for Gary after he was injured," stated Amundsen. "He handled the entire situation very well."

"There is even an outside chance he'll be back for the tournament, if he can be outfitted with the proper type of protective cast," added the coach optimistically. Andover, 2-0

Tewksbury and Andover hooked up in the most physical game of the year for both teams, the Redmen needing a win or tie to remain in contention for a State tournament berth.

"There was a lot of chippiness both ways," noted Amundsen. "One of the officials was letting quite a few things go by, and the kids were playing the body instead of the ball."

"It's awfully tough, but the kids have to learn how to take that stuff without being intimidated. It's human nature to retaliate in those situations, but the good teams maintain their poise and control," explained Amundsen.

Andover, which had belted Tewksbury 6-2 in the season's opener, battled through a scoreless first half this time at the muddy Tewksbury Junior High pitch.

"We were sluggish in the first half, perhaps feeling somewhat of a letdown after the 1-0 loss to Billerica the previous game, but we really put it together in the second half," observed Amundsen.

Co-Capt. Tony Cammarata broke the double goose-egg at 14:23 of the third period with his third seasonal goal. Sophomore right wing Rusty Serbagi, who picked up his fourth assist, chipped a corner kick out front and Cammarata headed it into the net over goalie Mike Morgan's head.

Carl Gutermann added the insurance goal, his first, at 9:38 of the fourth period on an unassisted play.

"Carl intercepted a clearing pass and booted a perfect shot that dipped as it went over the goalie's head," recalled Amundsen. "The ball must have dropped six feet in the air. The goalie never moved... he was frozen in place because the shot really fooled him."

Andover outshot the Redmen, 15-11. Morgan had 13 saves including a pair of outstanding stops just prior to halftime to rob Dave Farrell at the left post.

The Warriors' A.J. DeFusco turned in 11 saves for the team's fifth shutout.

Amundsen also lauded the play of sophomore halfback Steve Luby, junior winger Tom Keefe and fullbacks George Donovan and Neil Faigel.

"Keefe had some very tough balls to handle but he did an excellent job keeping the ball in play," commented the coach.

Andover, 4-0

Dave Farrell netted his ninth and 10th seasonal goals, while Rusty Serbagi delivered his first and junior right winger John Kinsky added his first, boosting the Golden Warriors to a convincing 4-0 win over Lawrence High at the Mount Vernon Park pitch.

"It was the first game in a while we had some production from our front line," related Amundsen. "I sat down a few of our regulars early in the game and I guess the message got through."

"In fact," continued the coach, "our reserves played the entire fourth period and for the first time this year I was able to use 27 players in the game."

Lelie Perry, a junior "midfield-person", saw her first varsity action and as always impressed with her sheer hustle.

Tony Cammarata also played a big part in the victory, shadowing the Lancers' high-scoring Paul Lima and holding him off the board. Lima had entered the game with 14 goals for the 4-9-1 Lawrence crew.

Farrell added a pair of goals six minutes apart in the second session for a 3-0 half-time bulge.

His first tally at 8:00 was set up by Pete "Kamikaze" Chiklis, who fed Dave a pass that sent him dribbling past a defender for a quick shot that eluded Lancer netminder John Amato.

Junior midfielder Pete Price assisted on Farrell's second goal at 14:25 and Dave missed a second period "hat trick" when his penalty shot was no good.

Farrell registered his third point of the game by assisting on Kinsky's goal. John unintentionally faked Amato out by mis-hitting his first shot, then slapped the ball past the goalie before he could recover.

The Golden Warriors outshot Lawrence, 16-13, and the team's second straight shutout and sixth of the year was shared by senior Chuck Ness and sophomore Jeff Nicaastro. Ness made 10 saves over the first three stanzas, and Nicaastro had three stops including two gems during the final 18 minutes.

Amundsen also praised the performances of Co-Capt. Dave Johnson and Tom Keefe at striker.

Andover, 3-1

Red-hot Dave Farrell moved into second place in the MVC individual scoring race with 15 points on 12 goals and three assists, scoring twice more to pace the 3-1 conquest of Chelmsford as part of the annual "Homecoming Weekend."

Farrell launched the attack at 15:20 of the opening period, taking a feed from Rich O'Hara and slamming a shot over Lions' goalie Loren Wass from 15 yards out.

O'Hara raised the count to 20 in the third stanza, when AHS broke the game open with two goals three minutes apart. Dave Johnson started the play with a throw-in and O'Hara headed a shot into the near corner.

Johnson assisted on Farrell's second goal a short time later, as Dave weaved through three defenders and beat Wass to the lower left corner of the cage.

Again Farrell barely missed a hat trick, having a third goal disallowed by a hand-ball infraction.

Chelmsford finally got on the scoreboard with seven minutes to play in the game, Neil Moran connecting from Scott Holmes. The ball actually deflected past Warriors' goalie A. J. DeFusco after glancing off an AHS defender.

That goal snapped Andover's shutout string at 11½ periods and 209 consecutive minutes of action.

The Golden Warriors outshot Chelmsford, 25-13. Wass was credited with 18 saves and DeFusco with 11.

The loss left CHS at 6-4-4 overall.

Masco Scrimmage

While everyone else in the MVC played yesterday, Andover enjoyed a bye.

However, the Golden Warriors didn't remain idle as they scrimmaged perennially strong Masconomet Regional which has lost just once this season. There was action at the varsity, sub-varsity and JV levels.

"We don't want to lose any of that edge heading into the tournament. We want to be in the right state of mind and in top shape physically," offered Amundsen.

Rainy weather wouldn't bother the coach for the tournament games, either.

"I'll take wet weather. I think we're scrappy enough for that to be to our advantage."

Tom French And Friend

Report From Sweden

Tom French, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alan French, 17 Moreland Road, Andover, and a student at Phillips Academy, is spending this school year in Skelleftea, Sweden through the American Field Service international scholarship program at P.A., as an "American Abroad." Following is correspondence from Tom, dated October 20.

It's cold (about 25° f) and dark out at the moment. It's been getting darker earlier and earlier every day, for winter is well on its way. You might even say that it's here, for we have had three or four snow-falls since the beginning of the month. By the middle of November we'll have only two hours of sunlight per day, and we should have well over two feet of snow.

I am living with my host family, the Nilssons, in the small city of Skelleftea which lies about 100 miles south of the Arctic Circle in the northeastern part of Sweden. Quite a change in climate from Andover!

I arrived in Sweden in the beginning of July, and before traveling north to Skelleftea, spent two weeks in the countryside west of Stockholm getting intensive language training. There are 30 of us A.F.S. students here in Sweden representing 17 different countries. We all lived together in a youth hostel during the language camp, and we had a fantastic time. I've never heard so many different languages being spoken at the same time. Aside from six hours of classes per day, we found time for soccer, frisbee, swimming in ice-cold lakes, trying to get a suntan, singing, and partying. We scraped together a soccer team and in our one and only match got severely trounced by the locals. It was fun though and the sauna afterward helped us to forget our defeat. We all really enjoyed the language camp, and in January we will be getting together again for a week in Stockholm.

Sitting on the train during the 12 hour ride to Skelleftea, I nervously practiced what very little Swedish I had learned. I was both nervous and excited about meeting my host family for the first time. I knew from letters that I had a mother, father, older sister, brother my age and a dog, but I didn't know much more. They were waiting for me at the train station and brought me home to an incredible breakfast of fish, cheese, home-baked bread and pastries.

I felt a little awkward at first, but after being put to work with my brother washing the car I felt much better. The first few weeks were exciting, and a little weird. Neither of my parents speak English, so we played a constant game of charades, supplemented by passing back and forth the pocket dictionary that I always carried with me. At first everything sounded like noise, by my family was very helpful, and I slowly began to make out distant words in their speech. I also found time to explore Skelleftea. It's a rather wide-spread city of 70,000 and is surrounded by endless pine forest. By the beginning of school (Aug. 25), I knew my way around town, felt pretty much at home, and could at least attempt to communicate with people.

The first month of school was pretty

The Arctic tern breeds as far north as it can find land for laying eggs, and winters as far south as there is open water for food, Massachusetts Audubon notes.

For about eight months of the year, this bird lives in constant sunlight so probably it receives more light than any other animal.

challenging. It was very hard to understand what was going on in classes, and homework (looking up almost every word with my trusty dictionary) took quite a while. It was exciting, though, and I met a lot of young people. My understanding of the language improved rapidly, and every week I have learned a little more. By now, I can understand almost everything, and say almost anything I want. I knew I'd made a break-through when I overslet one morning and my mother woke me up out of a deep sleep. I answered her in Swedish!

I go to school at one of the local "gymnasiums". It's rather like an American high school, except that kids decide in the ninth grade which of about five different "study lines" they will follow, and then go to the appropriate gymnasium. I'm in the "Samhalskunskap" (social studies) line. I'm amazed by the foreign language study here. By their senior year, kids have studied six years of English, five years of French or German, and two years of another language of their choice.

Daily life here is interesting and a lot of fun. During the week I'm the only child at home, but I see quite a bit of my brother and sister on weekends. My sister goes to a music school in a town about 40 miles north of here, and she and her fiance often come down to visit. My brother is in his first year of college but he comes home every weekend. College is also a little different here. They are all free, and students can get passes that allow them to ride the bus home for free. They usually come home for the weekend and on free days.

My mother works with the elderly two or three days per week, and teaches gymnastics one night per week. My father is a typographer at the local newspaper, and alternates weekly between the day and night shift. On free nights he coaches skiing and orienteering (a sport involving locating checkpoints in the woods with a compass and a map) for younger kids.

The big meal of the day is "midag", which we eat together at four o'clock. We also eat breakfast, a light lunch, and a small meal about 8 p.m. consisting of cheese, bread, pastries, and tea. School goes until 4 o'clock after which different sport clubs meet to train. Sports here are all associated with clubs, not with school. I've been training hard with the ski club, and will compete with them this winter. My family is also very interested in orienteering and I've gone to quite a few competitions with them. In free time there are many movies, swimming halls, concerts, parties, and discotheques to go to.

So, things are really moving along well here. Every week I go to the library and fully digest Newsweek and Time magazine, so I'm pretty well caught up with what's going on in "The States". From what I hear from home, it sounds as though things are fine in Andover. Have a good winter!

Downs - Sorrie

Honeymooning in Winnipeg, Canada, are Mr. and Mrs. Donald C. Downs, Jr., who were married Saturday at the Zion United Methodist Church in Grand Forks, North Dakota.

The bride was Barbara Jean Sorrie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edmond A. Sorrie of Barre, Vt., formerly of Andover. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald C. Downs, Sr., of Hibbing, Minn.

The Rev. Robert Worner of Fargo, N. Dak., officiated at the 2 o'clock ceremony, before an altar and railings decorated with yellow gladioli, oak leaves, bittersweet and greens. He was assisted by the Rev. William Bates of Zion United Methodist. Mrs. Glen Colson provided organ music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown created by her mother of white lutesong, with a high neckline, contoured waistline, flared skirt with chapel-length train, and full sleeves ending in tight cuffs. Venice lace in the rose motif trimmed the neckline, waistline and hem. Her elbow-length veil was trimmed in matching miniature Venice lace and fastened to a headpiece that matched her dress. She carried her grandmother's white Bible, covered with white and butterscotch poms and bittersweet.

Mrs. Anthony Weiner of Findlay, Ohio, attended as her maid of honor, wearing a jewel-tone, yellow gown, trimmed with beading of lace and threaded with yellow ribbon. She wore a headpiece of yellow ribbon and bittersweet and carried a bouquet of butterscotch and yellow poms and bittersweet.

Mrs. Sorrie chosen a floor-length gown of apricot windsong with bodice trim and full sleeves of matching apricot chiffon for her daughter's wedding. She wore a corsage of butterscotch poms and bittersweet.

The groom's mother wore a beige Qiana gown and matching Cradin jacket trimmed with embroidered lace, and a corsage of butterscotch poms and bittersweet.

Wayne Graves of Grand Forks, N. Dak., served as best man, and ushers included Frank and Bret Downs of Hibbing, Minn.

A reception followed the ceremony in the church parlor, with Mrs. Donald Sorrie of Andover presiding at the guest book. A wedding dinner for the two families was held at the Holiday Inn.

Town Meeting Comments

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN:

As a private citizen of the Town of Andover may I make a few comments regarding our Andover Special Town Meeting held on Oct. 24-77. The atmosphere was prevalent with agitation and discourtesy relative to the Humane Dog Control Leash Law. This was caused by a special interest group which did a lot of lobbying to round up votes at the Town Meeting to get what they wanted passed — that is, their Humane Dog Control Law which passed 419-100. That law is not sufficient to handle all our doggie troubles, it is too naive. And a great number of people in Andover regard it as such and want to do something about it and will surely do so at a later date.

At this point I would ask why Nancy Mulvey, former president of the Andover League of Women Voters — so I was informed, made a motion to terminate the debate on the issue. Her action denied voters the privilege which is their legal constitutional right according to our democratic system of government on the three levels of government Federal-State-Local and should be so at our open Town Meetings in Andover always. Most people want debates or discussions to hear both sides of any issue or problem thus know the pro and con better to help them understand our many problems and how to deal with them more effectively.

In reference to myself I am not clever enough to know how to vote without doing my homework and therefore study both sides of an issue — then vote in the best interests of the Town of Andover — which is a great Town and my goal along with lots of other people is to try to keep it that way — Great.

In reference to Mr. Sidney White a former Selectman and who did an excellent job in regards to our Bi-Centennial observance in Andover working with the Bi-Centennial committee. But when he attempted to address the meeting to explain to the voters his case for a stronger Dog Control Leash Law which is sorely needed, he was shouted down by folks who would not allow him to exercise his legal right to do so. Wasn't that a wonderful stunt to perform by those folks as we enter our Tri-Centennial year? If Mr. White had been allowed to speak we voters would have learned a great deal more about it. Andover needs a strong law not a weak one to control our Andover doggies. In a recent poll I believe it showed we have 2900 dogs — 1900 dogs licensed — 1000 not licensed in Andover. How about it? Isn't that something to know. At our annual Town Meeting next year may we get down to business seriously with integrity, stability — so to help in a meaningful way to help solve our many problems in Andover.

May we also work together with intelligence and common sense — as we get nowhere with nonsense.

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN:

The Citizens for Humane Dog Control would like to thank the editor for assuming that we had such "complete control" at Town Meeting as to have carefully placed a spokesperson to move for a vote cutting off debate on the leash law.

The assumption was incorrect, the woman unknown to us, and the motion a surprise to all. Our group voted to keep debate open and was ready and willing to thoroughly discuss the issue.

Town Meeting has its "inadequacies"; journalism its inaccuracies, yes?

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN:

The reporting and editorial coverage of the leash law issue at the Town Meeting on October 24 contains a number of misrepresentations and misstatements of fact. For the benefit of those voters who were not in attendance and are dependent on your paper for their information, I would like to clarify them.

Although I was the person who "moved the question" to close debate, I am not and have never been a proponent of the more liberal leash law. As a matter of fact, I do not favor any leash law until the town is willing to appropriate the funds necessary for enforcement, since it only leads to unrealistic expectations. Therefore, I was not a part of any "well-organized forces" and my action was completely independent, although encouraged by people on both sides of the issue. The hour was late; there had been extensive discussion at Town Meeting in May and since then; and both amendments had been read in entirety and were also in printed form before the voters. This process had already taken over one half-hour during which time over 200 voters had left the meeting.

The statement that it was one "special interest group in complete control of the matter from the outset" is belied by the actual votes. The vote on the question to close debate was an overwhelming majority; however, the vote on Mr. White's amendment was 352-218. Clearly, had there not been strong support from those on both sides of the issue, the motion to close debate would not have passed as it did.

Finally, I resent the assertion that this action was discourteous, undemocratic, improper and "not in the best interests of Andover." It was presented in a polite and orderly manner, and the moderator clarified and accepted it. It is a legal parliamentary move, contained in published regulations of town meeting, and has been used in prior town meetings.

The question was put to a vote, which I have always understood to be the democratic process. The decision to close debate avoided a lengthy rehash of arguments before an audience who had their minds made up when they arrived that night. It is this type of oratory, after the voters are ready to vote, which bores and frustrates and tends to discourage attendance at town meetings. This is not in the best interests of Andover if the town meeting form of government is to survive, and has been recognized by the present moderator many times when he himself has limited debate.

Had you bothered to investigate before printing assumptions as fact, you would have found not only that I have no connection with the proponents of the "humane" by-law, but also that the leaders of that group voted against my motion.

Nancy M. Mulvey
104 High Plain Road

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN:

I heartily applaud your editorial in last week's issue of the Townsman, particularly as far as Sid White's amendment to the Leash Law is concerned. Common decency alone made it imperative that supporters of Sid White's amendment be given equal time to explain their position. The most astounding part of the whole affair is that a former president of the League of Women Voters made the motion to vote on the issue, thereby cutting off further discussion! I certainly hope that the League will get a consensus from its members on the subject and publicly censure the lady concerned; they might also consider asking her for her membership card. Her action at town meeting did nothing to improve the image of the League.

As for the group supporting the Humane Dog Control article, may I request that you publish a list of your names and telephone numbers so that the next time a dog harrasses my children, attacks my trash bags and/or desecrates my lawn, I can contact one of you to see what you recommend I do. In my opinion, if dog owners really want to be humane, they should fence in their property to permit their dogs to run free, and let the rest of us who do not own a dog enjoy life too.

In closing, I would like to thank Sid White for the time and money he spent in trying to do something for the more thoughtful residents of the town of Andover.

Mr. Laverriere will speak on the work of the CAC, and what it can do to help Andover residents, as well as answer any questions. The meeting will begin at 2 p.m. in The Haven.

THE HAVEN WILL BE CLOSED ALL DAY FRIDAY, NOV. 11, VETERAN'S DAY.

Thursday, Nov. 10 at 2:15, the next regular session of The Haven Book Club is scheduled. The book to be reviewed is 'Gertrude Lawrence As Mrs. A', written by Richard Stoddard Aldridge. The reviewer is Mrs. Gwen Smith of the Memorial Hall Library Staff.

It has come to our attention that there are some flim-flam artists active in the Andover area, preying on our older residents. Currently their mode of operation is to approach someone who is known to be an upright and law-abiding citizen and ask his or her cooperation in apprehending swindlers in local banks. They themselves pose as bank examiners and have the senior citizen withdraw his savings to help them uncover bank irregularities. They present what appear to be police credentials and are very clever in their seeming legitimacy, but when they collect the money it is never to be seen again. If you know of any such activity, or are approached yourself, you are urged to call the Andover police. Bank examiners do not use innocent citizens in their investigative operations. No matter how persuasive they may seem to be, these people are out to take your money. Call the police.

Capital Budget Due For Tuesday Hearing

A capital budget program totalling $22.5 million over the next five years will be presented at a public hearing next Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in Memorial Hall library.

The program is outgrowth of efforts of Selectmen Richard J. Bowen who had originally proposed such a program be presented to town meeting a year ago as provision of the town meeting charter.

It was withdrawn after agreement was reached among town and school officials to work out a five year program without madate through bylaw.

Since April the town manager's office, finance committee, planning board and school department, have been working on the program and presented the proposal in report form to those ending the Oct. 24 town meeting.

The program is a listing of projects viewed by municipal official as needed within the next five years and range in costs from $25,000 to in excess of $3 million.

The projects are assigned to years and the repdort indicates their tax rate effect in a particular year.

The major portion of the five year plan is implemented within the first three years.

Among the major projects are a $2 million-plus addition to the library; a $3 million auditorium for the high school and $3 million renovation for East Junior high.

Also included are new fire stations for the east and south sections of town a $3 million sewer line extension and $1.5 million in improvements for the Central Business District.

make for this arrangement.

Acting Manager Cohen said that he would be making a proposal to the selectmen within the week concerning Austin's role. The majority of the board, in accepting Austin's resignation said that it would agree to keeping him on the payroll for a six month period, based on what duties the acting manager may assign the former administrator.

Chairman Susan T. Poore told Levinson that there are some members of the board who agree with his questioning of the legal justification for continued employment but pointed out that the majority did not see it that way.

Selectman Richard J. Bowen said that the town has a legal obligation to pay the vacation time and was awaiting a proposal from the acting manager on any other portion.

Selectman Edward M. Harris said that the former manager is to be assigned a role and that if he obtained employment in the meantime, his salary in Andover would cease. Harris at one point indicated that if a manager were appointed in the meantime, Austin's salary would also stop, a matter he corrected after the meeting. Harris and Selectman Albert Cole, Jr., said the matter of Austin's leaving the payroll would be through his obtaining employment, not appointment of a new manager for Andover.

It was also explained to Levinson that the $16,000 due Austin during this period is already budgeted within the town manager's account and is not an additional sum.

Selectman Cole said there are parallel situations in the town where department heads have former administrators in the office for a period of time during transition and training.

Next Monday night, at the board's conference session, Acting Manager Cohen will propose the appointment of a special assistant to the manager, a position he intends Austin to fill.

Cohen will also confer with the board concerning terms of his appointment as acting manager.

The agreement reached verbally between the selectmen and Austin on Oct. 18, was that in return for his resignation, Austin would be assigned duties by the acting manager which, combined with his accrued vacation and sick time would total six months compensation.

While he has been working in an office in the former theater building on Essex street and conferring with Cohen daily. Austin has not been paid for the past week. Cohen said the salary will be retroactive when the appointment is confirmed by the selectmen.

been determined that the course of the tree had been altered so as to grow toward the street rather than the business building.

While the selectmen were unable to vote on the matter, since it was presented during the citizens petition portion of the agenda, there was sufficient consensus gained from discussion that the tree should be spared.

Mrs. Kolaski also asked the board to check on rusty water conditions in the Shawsheen area and also requested that the street lights in the area not be altered.

The Shawsheen representative said the group was hopeful of maintaining the present light standards in the village and possibly obtain some federal funding for replacements if necessary.

She said she was fearful that electric company police on street light replacements might alter the village appearance.

Selectmen assured her that the matter would be carefully watched.

Valley

Selectmen Richard J. Bowen noted that Andover had been constantly concerned about the Merrimack Valley Regional Planning Commission and its activities.

Bowen said that funding of the agency is somewhat at fault, noting that participating communities do not fund it properly, thus the agency picks up "loose change wherever and whenever it can," such as the 208 planning grant of $34,000.

Further examining the proposed planning activity called for by the federal government with the small amount of funds, Bowen said "if this is the best the

Salary Range Problem For School Position

Thirty-three applications have been received to date for the new assistant superintendent position, Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert told the school committee Tuesday night, and interviews have been tentatively set for Nov. 15 to 29.

However, Seifert told the committee they might have fewer candidates than they had expected, because of the $27,000 to $30,000 price tag attached to the job.

He said several candidates have already withdrawn their applications because they are seeking more money, and he added that many administrators, including principals who have been in the school business 15 to 18 years, are already at that salary level.

Committeeman Joseph Finn asked Seifert to note the names of those people withdrawing because of the salary, because "I want to see what caliber of people we may be missing out on." He noted that Andover already has five administrators earning salaries in the $27,000 to $30,000 range, and said the board has to recognize that "there's a certain level of qualified people they're just not going to be able to tap if they're not willing to go higher."

The committee also asked Seifert to make note of any candidate whose name is removed for consideration at any point along the way, along with the reason.

Under a new policy for selecting key administrators, Seifert said he will take a "very open" approach. Program advisors, assistant principals and principals have been invited to help screen applications and then to interview applicants who pass

MVPC can do, I would work toward withdrawing from the commission."

He said that what should be done is to see if the other Merrimack Valley communities would be willing to put up a quarter of the total cost with the federal government footing the remainder, in order to plan properly.

Kathleen Bertolini of the MVPC, explained that the commission had accepted the money in view of the possibility of additional funding becoming available. She noted that some Environmental Protection Agency funds were impounded by former President Nixon and court orders have just released the money, thus additional application and legal examination of requests.

She also note that additional funding should be forthcoming since the Merrimack River basin is one of the ten major river basins in the country.

The comment caused Chairman Susan T. Poore to comment that "someone isn't taking this very seriously, if they only provide $34,000 for the study."

Public Works Director Robert E. McQuade, noting that if the regional commission did not do the study the state would, said that the latter would be a better agency, under the circumstance. He said that with the state plan, which has to be approved by the governor, local communities could impress upon their local legislators the need to persuade the governor not to approve, if it did not meet local expectations.

Bowen approved the Cohen suggestion on the joint meeting of valley leaders, noting that Andover had a commitment to regional planning and "it's about time we said either do it right or don't do it at all."

that first step. After studying the committee's comments, Seifert will narrow the field to about six, and then down to three for more extensive interviews.

Committeeman Casimir Kolaski also asked for information about where Andover's administrative salaries stand in relation to other communities, and Seifert concluded that Andover has never been recognized for its "exorbitant salaries."

He said, however, that the system does offer other benefits such as prestige that should enable administrators to advance themselves elsewhere should they leave Andover.

"In a way I hope that's not the case," he smiled. "I'm getting a little tired of training the second in command."

Associate Supt. Harry Westcott resigned last summer to become superintendent of a district in western New Hampshire. He succeeded Edward Regan, who was not rehired assistant superintendent by the school committee in the spring of 1974.

Injured In Car Theft Accident

Two Andover juveniles will be summoned for a court appearance as a result of an accident involving a stolen car and serious injury to a teacher-aide.

Theresa Conlon, 17 York St., a teacher-aide at West Junior High school, is in good condition at Lawrence General hospital where she is being treated for a fractured pelvis and other injuries sustained in the Monday accident.

The teacher aide was leaving the West Junior High on Monday when a car came toward her at a high rate of speed and apparently out of control, according to Andover police.

She jumped between two parked cars, one of which was hit by the speeding car. She was caught between the two parked vehicles.

Police report that the offending vehicle was being driven by students who had stolen the car from the high school parking lot. The car was owned by Paul Fitzgerald of Winchester, a teacher.

Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert Tuesday night told the school committee it is "really tragic when innocent people are hurt," but added that he was pleased the accident wasn't even more serious than it was.

He told them the prime suspects "seem to be locked in," and that the police were pursuing the incident. Court action, he said, "is going to be taken."

Some Capital Thoughts

Next Tuesday night Andover residents will have an opportunity to examine what is being proposed in the way of major projects for the next five years.

A public hearing is scheduled for Memorial Hall library on the proposed capital improvement program drawn up by the town and school departments.

At the present time the bottom line, a current popular reference point, reads $22.5 million.

It is the first effort in some time to outline what municipal officials view as an orderly outline of town needs over the next five years.

Tuesday night's session is the first presentation for public consumption and, we trust, careful examination.

On the surface, such planning is proper and necessary in order to keep the town's needs in line with its ability to pay.

Much of the contents of the program to be presented will be "old hat," to many who have heard similar requests from various departments in the past.

The placing of them in a somewhat orderly fashion as to what year such projects should be presented to town meeting, places the town's financing in better focus.

But, like all programs of this magnitude, there will be problems.

While it would appear to be agreeable at the moment on the timing of specific projects between the school department and other municipal bodies, we wonder how long that amicability will last as time goes on.

We wonder, for instance if the forces now interested in a new municipal auditorium, to be placed at the high school, will be satisfied to wait until 1980 to push this project from the drawing board to reality.

Or, aside from school-town relationships, we wonder, if various municipal departments would take a back seat with their pet project until another goes forward. Case in point, would the library be willing to wait until about 1982, to request funds for a $2 million plus addition to their facility?

The outline of the capital budget program, copies of which were distributed at the October town meeting, provides what can best be termed as a list of desires on the part of the town's municipal family.

We trust that maybe not by Tuesday's presentation but somewhere before the end of the calendar year, we will be hearing something about the priorities of the proposed major projects.

Some substantial reasoning should also accompany the expressed need for such items as school renovations, library additions, new municipal construction, such as fire stations, or major water or sewer line extensions.

The report in its present form will require considerable digesting, in view of the proposed cost.

The $22.5 million is a current figure, we imagine, and does not take into consideration such things as annually rising costs.

Too, the figure is the base rate, since all, or most, of the projects would be accomplished with borrowed funds, thus interest costs over and above the $22.5 million.

Tuesday's session on the capital budget program is a highly recommended meeting for those interested in forecasting what Andover's costs could be over the next five years.

WEEKLY SPECIAL

Bell Won't Ease Up on Helms

by Jack Anderson with Joe Spear

WASHINGTON - We previously reported that the Justice Department was preparing to indict former CIA chief Richard Helms. The case against him grew out of a story we broke in 1972.

We reported at that time that the CIA had worked with the International Telephone and Telegraph company to block Chilean President Salvador Allende from taking office. Both the CIA and ITT denied the story. It took a Senate investigation to get the facts out.

Now a grand jury has recommended multiple-count indictments against Helms for misinforming the Senate.

But people in high places have brought tremendous pressure on Attorney General Griffin Bell to drop the case against Helms. They fear Helms may be forced to divulge national secrets in order to defend himself.

This could cause incalculable damage. Foreign intelligence services may also stop cooperating with the CIA if a CIA director can be compelled to divulge confidences in open court.

But the attorney general believes he has figured out a way to protect the national interest. He would present any sensitive evidence to the judge in secret. The judge would hear all the arguments for and against revealing the evidence. Then the Justice Department, of course, would abide by the judge's ruling.

The conscientious Griffin Bell believes CIA officials must be subject to the law. They cannot be excused from trial, he believes, on national security grounds. This would mean that CIA agents could break the law whenever they pleased, without any worry about facing trial.

Bell will consult with President Carter, however, before making the final decision whether to bring Richard Helms to trial.

Uneasy Peace: Two weeks ago, we told the backstage story of the Senate filibuster over natural gas prices. We reported that two Democratic senators, James Abourezk of South Dakota and Howard Metzenbaum of Ohio, were quietly urged by the White House to keep talking.

Then the White House double-crossed them and helped to break the filibuster. We reported that both senators were furious. Abourezk even called President Carter a liar.

Now we have a sequel to the story. Carter invited the two ruffled lawmakers to the White House to smoke the peace pipe with him. The president apologized to the senators. He was warm and complimentary. Officially, the hatchet was buried.

But privately, Abourezk and Metzenbaum still have their hackles up. They have confided to other senators that they're still "wary" of the White House. Several senators, in turn, offered to support Abourezk if he should decide to start another filibuster.

Biggest Threat: A prestigious Washington think tank called Worldwatch has isolated what they consider the greatest threat to our national security.

The study hasn't yet been released to the public. But we can reveal that it does not list Soviet missiles and H-bombs as our greatest menace.

The biggest danger, according to the study, is the oil shortage. We are running out of oil and we're not developing alternate energy sources.

We also have more to fear from pollution, the study claims, than from Soviet planes and ships. Yet little is being done, the study warns, about these most serious threats to our national security.

Diplomatic Pipeline: The Chinese communists have quietly kept up their contacts with ex-President Richard Nixon at San Clemente. The top Chinese diplomat in this country, Ambassador Huang Chen, has told us he is in regular touch with Nixon. He said the Chinese don't forget their friends. They will always be grateful to Nixon, Huang said, for reestablishing Chinese-American relations.

The Chinese won't drop Nixon, therefore, just because he has fallen from power. Huang said he still visits the former president on the West Coast.

The State Department was dismayed by South Africa's crackdown on black newspapers and organizations. Our inside sources say the United States will reconsider its relationship with South Africa.

Several moves are under discussion to dramatize America's displeasure. First, the State Department may discourage U.S. investment in South Africa. Then if the situation worsens, the United States might actually impose a trade boycott. The State Department may also reduce the size of the U.S. embassy in Johannesburg, or permanently withdraw the U.S. ambassador.

Headlines And Footnotes: The public will soon be paying a bit more for pesticides and pest sprays. The Environmental Protection Agency wants to equip the products with child-proof safety caps, similar to those now used on aspirin bottles. Prices will go up, as a result, about a nickel a can ... President Carter's top female aide, Midge Constanza, has infuriated fellow bureaucrats with her high-handed ways. They say she has a habit of writing angry letters about women's rights and then releasing them before the recipient has a chance to answer ... Rep. Abner Mikva, D-Ill., wouldn't accept the official word on the noise level of the supersonic Concorde airplane. He drove out to Washington's Dulles Airport to listen to the Concorde for himself.

Welsh Goes Wild Pacing 34-12 Win

By Rick Harrison

It's time to start thinking about Conference championships again, and if you really want to dream, there is an outside shot at a fourth Super Bowl appearance in the last five years.

With quarterback Dan Welsh accounting for an awesome 312 yards total offense, 127 yards rushing and 185 through the air, the Andover High football team thumped Lawrence High 34-12 last Saturday before an excellent "Homecoming" crowd of 2,000 at balmy Eugene V. Lovely Field.

The Golden Warriors' fifth straight victory coupled with Dracut's 15-14 loss to Tewksbury, earned AHS a third share of the Merrimack Valley Conference lead. Andover, Dracut and Chelmsford are all 5-1 . . . and guess who the Warriors play the next two weeks?

This Saturday afternoon Andover is at Chelmsford, and on November 12 Dracut invades Lovely Field.

With a 6-1 overall record, if Andover can sweep its last three games there is more than an outside chance of another Super Bowl (Division 2) Game in December at Boston University's Nickerson Field.

However, nobody is counting their chickens just yet. Chelmsford and Dracut will provide the toughest opposition encountered this season by AHS.

Welsh on Tear

Dan Welsh has been on a tear for the Golden Warriors, scoring nine touchdowns in the past four weeks after going without a TD in the opening three games.

The senior signal-caller ran for three six-pointers against Lawrence, and also pitched his 10th and 11th TD passes of the season to junior wide receiver Paul Farnham.

The Lancers, 1-6 on the year but trying to duplicate their 20-15 upset of Andover last October, took Manny Silva's opening kickoff and marched 80 yards in 15 plays to grab a 6-0 lead exactly six minutes into the game.

The drive was the picture of consistency. There were no penalties and the Lancers converted four straight third down situations.

The lone pass thrown resulted in a seven yard completion from junior QB Sammy Johnson to Joe DeNuncio, and the only big gainer was a 21 yard burst by impressive junior running back Jim Moran.

Moran finished the afternoon as the top rusher on both sides, grinding out 151 tough yards on 25 workhorse carries.

Jay Dezan, who lugged the ball only twice in the game, got the call from two yards out for the touchdown. Moran's attempted conversion rush was stacked up.

Aerial Barrage

Welsh, who completed 10-of-21 passes while Rick Collins was 1-for-1, brought the Golden Warriors back even in double time.

AHS put Dave Sott's kickoff in play at its own 33, and proceeded to move 67 yards in six plays for the tying touchdown at 7:44.

The first play was a 42 yard sideline bomb to Farnham, who snared six passes for 118 yards in the game, advancing AHS to the Lawrence 25.

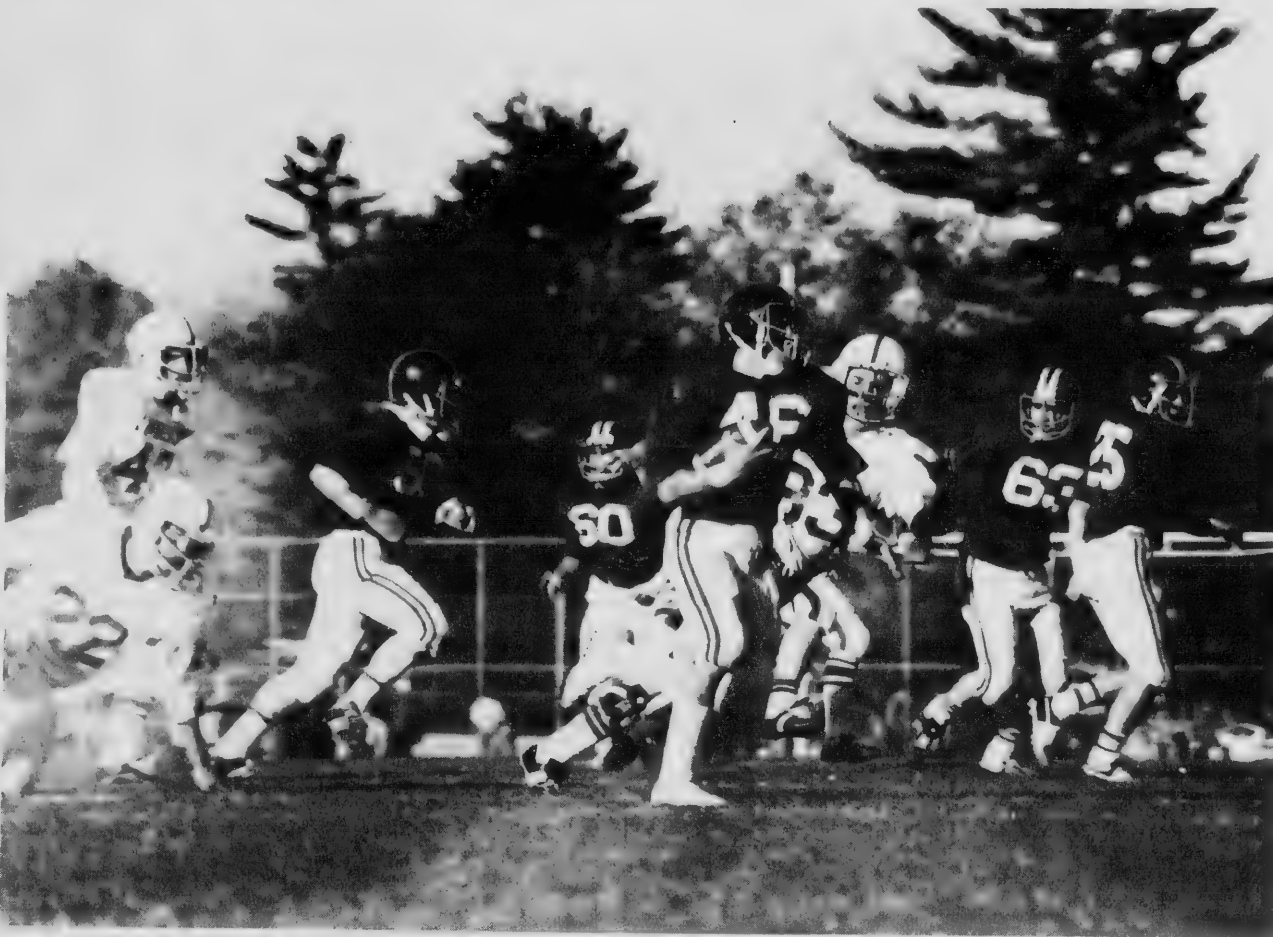

An offside penalty, a 10 yard screen pass to Rick Collins, and a three yard keeper by Welsh brought the ball to the Lancers' seven. Welsh then rolled out to the left side and muscled his way to paydirt.

Manny Silva, usually money in the bank, had to hurry his PAT kick and the ball sailed wide to the right of the posts.

Andover took the lead for good on its second possession early in the second quarter, marching 44 yards in six plays after Tom Hambleton punted from deep in his own territory.

A pass interference call on Lawrence was good for six yards, Rick Collins clicked off a 17 yard run, Ed Collins rushed for three, and Welsh tacked on 10 with a keeper to the right side.

scored from the nine.

Silva's kick was true for a 13-6 spread at 3:03.

3-for-3

Coach Dick Collins' squad made it three touchdowns on three possessions, again forcing Hambleton to punt and moving 94 yards in an error-free nine play drive.

Hambleton's punt was a beauty, covering 73 yards with a good roll, but Welsh quickly got Andover's back away from the wall with a 25 yard burst on a simple pop up the middle.

Welsh then spied Joe Terrion for a 24 yard gain, with Joe making a fine catch and running the ball into Lancer territory at the 43.

Welsh ran for four yards and tossed a seven-yard aerial to Ed Collins. On first down at the 32, Welsh lost four yards on a keeper. He drilled a 12 yard pass to Farnham, who was unceremoniously thrown to the ground by big Joe LaRosa, but Ray Lynch couldn't find running room on a pitch right during third down.

Faced with a fourth-and-4 situation, Welsh lofted a perfect 26 yard TD pass to Farnham who made an over-the-shoulder grab behind the Lawrence secondary.

Silva's kick made it 20-6 at 7:13 of the second quarter.

Lawrence Threatens

Wayne Cecil's excellent 32 yard return of the subsequent kickoff was wiped out by a clipping penalty, and for the third straight time Lawrence failed to get beyond its own 20 yard line.

However, the Lancers finally stopped AHS when DeNuncio intercepted a Welsh pass and returned it 23 yards to midfield.

Rick Collins almost returned the favor on the next play, but he saw too much daylight in front of him and lost control of Johnson's pass trying to run before he had the ball.

Moran sprinted 16 yards, Johnson hit Sott with a 24 yard toss, and a 15 yard pass completion to Hambleton set up a first-and-goal at the Warriors' five with 14 seconds left in the half.

Len Driscoll broke up a pass intended for Sott, Mike Hart's fierce rush forced a bad pass, and the final play of the half saw Joe DeNuncio catch a Johnson pass just beyond the end line of the endzone.

Brief Comeback

Had Lawrence been able to score at that time, the final outcome might have been in doubt quite a while longer.

The Lancers pulled off a surprise play to open the second half, as Jay Karamourtopoulos squibbed an onside kick and Dennis Morin recovered for LHS at the Andover 48.

Then, just as it had to start the game, Lawrence marched steadily to paydirt in 10 plays for its final TD.

Moran, Johnson and Hambleton alternated carries to the five, and then Moran knifed over to cut the gap to 20-12 at 4:27 of the third quarter.

Brian Coleman and Driscoll buried Moran's conversion rush.

The Warriors took the next kickoff and, sparked by a 31 yard Welsh keeper and a 20 yard pass to Terrion, were on the go at the Lancers' 31.

Greg Gardner bucked seven yards, but the drive fizzled at the 27 after two incomplete passes and a three-yard loss on a pitchout.

Two plays later safety Rick Collins swiped a Johnson pass intended for Hambleton at the LHS 45, and he backtracked the ball 32 yards on a brilliant run to the 13.

Gardner hit the line for five yards, a pass to Farnham went incomplete, but then Welsh kept right and dove into the endzone for his 54th point of the season. Silva's kick upped the count to 27-12 at the 7:34 mark.

Giveaway

The rivals started playing giveaway in the fourth quarter, shortly after a pair of fine runs by the Collins brothers failed to produce dividends.

Rick Collins followed a 17 yard Ray Lynch gallop by zig-zagging 64 yards for an apparent touchdown, but the officials ruled he stepped out of bounds at the Lawrence 48. Ed Collins took a pitchout and sped 30 yards to the 18, but a clipping penalty brought the ball all the way back to the Warriors' 47.

Jack Halloran recovered a fumble on the next play, snuffing that series, and less than two minutes later AHS fumbled again with Jack Feole pouncing on the ball at the AHS 30.

The Lancers went for the quick kill, but Johnson's pass for Karamourtopoulos was tipped away and intercepted in the same motion by Bob Kramer at the two yard line.

A 27 yard pass to Farnham gave Andover some breathing room before it was forced to punt. It was the lone punt of the afternoon for the Golden Warriors, and Dave Alexander responded with a 47 yarder.

AHS wrapped up the scoring with 1:10 to play, trekking 55 yards in eight plays. An offensive pass interference call, followed by an incomplete pass, got things off to a slow start before Ray Lynch raced 22 yards to midfield.

Facing a fourth-and-3, Andover elected to go for the first down and Paul Dubose cracked nine yards to keep the drive alive.

Rick Collins hit Farnham with an eight yard option pass, Welsh cruised 30 yards to the three, and Farnham caught a soft

Redskins Clinch Jr. Grid Title

By Rick Harrison and Don Kramer

The West Andover Redskins remained unbeaten and unscored-upon, clinching the 1977 Andover Junior Football League championship with a convincing 28-0 romp over the Shawsheen Patriots last Sunday afternoon at the East Junior High Playstead field.

In other games this past weekend, the Indian Ridge Vikings eliminated the defending champion Central Colts from the title picture, 20-6, and the Bancroft Dolphins whitewashed the Ballardvale Browns, 25-0.

In previously-unreported games from the week before, the Redskins blanked the Dolphins, 13-0, the Colts nipped the Browns, 6-0, and the Vikings edged the Patriots, 13-7.

With one round of games left this Sunday, the uncatchable Redskins are 4-0-0 with a 65-0 scoring bulge over the opposition.

The second place Colts and Dolphins, both 2-1-1, cannot surpass West Andover even if that club loses its final game.

Redskins, 28-0

A strong passing game swept the Skins to their fourth straight win and assured them of the championship, as the winless Patriots were unable to cope with the aerial show.

Shawsheen received the opening kickoff, but quickly surrendered possession when defensive back Jim Terrion intercepted a pass.

The Redskins moved for three first downs on a QB Terrion to Mark Jensen pass, a 20-yard halfback option toss from Jensen back to Terrion, and a 15-yard heave from Terrion to Phil Puccia.

Rob Slayton eventually bucked over from the two yard line for his first touchdown of the season. Terrion passed to Jensen for the conversion and a 7-0 West Andover edge in the first quarter.

Shortly after the kickoff another Pats' mistake gave the Redskins the ball, and the champs moved for a pair of first downs before Terrion cracked over on a quarterback sneak for his third TD of the year.

The key play on the short drive to paydirt was a seven-yard pass from Terrion to Phil Puccia, and the same pair teamed up on the conversion for a 14-0 score midway through the second period.

Late in the half, after the Shawsheen offense sputtered near midfield, the Skins' Phil Puccia scored on a fancy play. West Andover faked a halfback option pass, and slipped the ball to Puccia on the end-around for a 30 yard TD run.

The busy Puccia registered his eighth point of the afternoon on a pass from Jim Terrion, and the Redskins left at halftime atop a commanding 21-0 lead.

The Redskins' B team moved the ball well during a scoreless third quarter, and so impressed Coach Joe Tisbert that he left them in there for the fourth period.

This display of confidence paid off late in the game, when halfback Roger Fitzgerald pitched a 25 yard option pass to quarterback Robbie Harrison for the final touchdown. The score was Harrison's third of the season.

Fitzgerald rushed the conversion, giving West Andover a perfect 4-for-4 day on extra points, and the game ended with that 28-0 score.

Leading the Patriots' A-team offense were Frank Britten, Mark Nardone, Steve Lacourse and Robbie Calder, while the B team attack centered around John Hopwood, Bob Stabile, Mark Grams and Tom Marjerison.

Shawsheen's A defense received fine efforts from John Siudut (6 tackles), Randy Jonesd, Scott Robichaud and Calder. The B defense was paced by Bob Stabile (4 tackles), Eric Fitzpatrick, Chris Rourke, John Kelleher, Kevin Rourke and Marjerison.

Additional offensive standouts for the Skins were Barney Ahouse, Pete Ouellette and Tom Bajek.

Backboning the shutout defense for the fourth successive time were Terry Flynn, Joe Buzzett, John Olesen, Ed McEvoy, Jim Kelleher, Chuck Frazette, John Healy, Eric Wragg, Harrison, Ouellette, Bajek and Ahouse.

Vikings, 20-6

AJFL scoring leader Chris Coots (36 points) ran for three touchdowns, and his strong kickoffs kept the Colts deep in their own territory most of the game, as Indian Ridge squared its record with a 20-6 conquest of Central.

The Colts took the opening kickoff at their own 10 yard line and drove for three first downs. J. B. Fitzgerald escaped on a 20 yard run, and he also hit Mike Lucey with a 20 yard pass and Harold Whitworth with a 10 yarder.

The Vikings blunted the Central drive at this point, then fumbled on their second play from scrimmage, but again held as the first quarter came to a close.

On the opening play of the second period, Harold Whitworth intercepted a Vikes' pass and raced 60 yards for the TD and a 6-0 Colts' edge.

After an exchange of fumbles late in the half, Indian Ridge came back on an electrifying 60 yard pass-and-run TD play from QB E. J. Perry to Chris Coots.

Perry swept right end for the go-ahead conversion, and the Vikings left at half-time with a 7-6 lead.

The third quarter was a defensive struggle, highlighted by a strong punt to the Colts' 20 by the Vikes' Billy Vickers.

On the next play Dylan Callahan pounced on a Central fumble, ending the third session and giving the Indian Ridge A team excellent field position.

Chris Coots carried twice, bulging 10 yards to the 10, and then covering the final 10 to paydirt for an insurance touchdown.

Coots' subsequent kickoff carried to the Colts' 10, and four plays later the stubborn Vikings' defense held at the Central 18 yard line.

Indian Ridge needed five plays for its final TD, Coots knifing the last four yards to chalk up his sixth seasonal touchdown.

Scott Zimmerman added the extra point on an end-around, killing all Central hopes for a second straight title.

Offensive stars for the Vikes were Tom

Powers, Tom Duncan, Chris ZLyons, Steve Duncan, Shane Smith, E. J. Perry, Vickers and Coots.

Bulwarking the defense were the omnipresent Chris Coots (5 tackles), Dave Kirkland (4 stops), Wayne Carver, Scott Zimmerman, Tom Maginnis, Bobby French, Dan Poore, Todd Sleath, Charlie Ziegenbein, Mike Sleath, Mike Redgate and Ed Melia.

For the Colts, whose two-season undefeated streak was halted at eight games (7-0-1), the offensive sparkplugs were Steve Green, Tim O'Shea, Jerry Fox, Mike Surette, Shawn O'Shea, Lucey and Fitzgerald.

Top defensive performances came from Bernie Kavanagh, Dave Petrella, Grant VanAken, Jon Gardner, Bryan Looney, Lucey, Fitzgerald and the O'Shea brothers.

Dolphins, 25-0

The Dolphins rebounded from their only defeat the previous week, breaking this game open with 18 second half points enroute to the 25-0 win over the Browns.

Ballardvale received the opening kickoff, couldn't get its offense untracked, and then handed Bancroft a fast opportunity when the Browns' punter was nailed at his own 20 before getting the kickoff.

The Dolphins wasted little time as Joe Keefe notched his third TD of the campaign on a three yard run moments later. Mark Walsh rushed the conversion for a 7-0 lead, and that's how it stayed through a Dolphin-dominated first half.

The Bancroft B team put the contest out of reach with two third quarter scores, mounting a steady ground game.

Chris Cormier bolted 30 yards on an end-around to set up one score. Scott Stammers took it across from the five to make it 13-0.

The Browns moved for two first downs after the kickoff before being stopped at the Dolphins' 33, and on the first play

The Language of Flowers

by Gerry Trull

You can grow a window of plants just for fragrance that love sun or part sun. Or choose plants that will live happily for a year in plain water. It's simply a matter of knowing who does what where. For marvelous aroma, there are nutmeg and peppermint geraniums, lemon vine cactus, sweet olive, gardenia, honey bells and persian lime. The scents waft from the window in morning sunlight and after watering. For the water gardener, use attractive glass containers, hanging or sitting, and watch the roots grow from coleus, glacier ivy, corn plants and common philodendron. Lots of fun and two good ways to make a window garden.

At TRULL'S MILL HILL FLOWER CENTER, 411 River Rd., 851-6161 we have lots of plants for your indoor garden, and we will be happy to advise you on their proper care and placement. We also feature a full selection of fresh cut, dried and silk flowers for all your floral needs. Come in and talk to us about flowers to beautify your winter wedding; we have some great ideas. Open: 9-5:30 Mon.-Sat.

We are having a Thanksgiving dry arrangement workshop Nov. 17th 10-11 a.m. and 7:30-8:30 p.m. If you are interested in coming please register soon to insure a place in the class of your choice.

Chris Scarpa sprinted straight up the middle 67 yards for his second touchdown of the year. That made it 19-0.

In the fourth period the Browns threatened after a 25 yard run by Wayne Giles, but the stubborn Dolphin defense held to preserve the shutout.

Chris Scarpa set up the final TD by breaking loose for a 40 yard run. Giles finally pulled him down from behind, but three plays later Chris Cormier stepped into the endzone on a short run for the 25-0 final score.

Bancroft's A-team offense was powered by Ken Doherty, Joe Keefe and Mark Walsh, while big names on the B-team offense were Chris Scarpa (over 100 yards rushing), Dean LoPresti, Ralph Dellatto and Scott Stammers.

The shutout defense was headed by A-team gridders Mike Sanchez (4 tackles), Joel Brother (4 tackles), Kevin Lynch, Bill DiAdamo, Jim Wiseman, Lou Gleason, Bob Colpitts, Scott Newman, John O'Neil and Ken Doherty.

B-team defensive standouts were Chris Scarpa (6 tackles), Chris Cormier (5 tackles), Dean LoPresti (5 tackles), Scott Stammers and Chuck Arrigo.

The Browns' A offense was guided by Chris O'Reilly, Dave Ouellette, Steve Eldred and Larry Cuddy, while the B attack was spearheaded by Chris Wilson, Neil Robinson, Bob Salisbury, Dave Doucette and Wayne Giles.

Topping the Ballardvale defensive unit were Frank DePiano, Dave Eldred, Gabriel Cordouez, Eric DeLoury, Bill Baldwin, John Breckinridge, Barry Moore, Bob Sharpe, Giles, Todd Lawrie and Salisbury.

Week of October 23

The Redskins whitewashed the Dolphins, 13-0 as Mark Jensen scored on a 25 yard gallop and Jim Terrion on a 14 yard QB keeper. Terrion also rushed the conversion following the first touchdown.

The Vikings nudged the Patriots, 13-7, as red-hot Chris Coots hauled in a 60 yard pass from Tom Powers and raced 15 yards for the other tally. Bobby French rushed the conversion following the pass play.

Terry Rourke may have set a league record when he rambled 90 yards for the first Patriots' touchdown of the season, and Robbie Calder rushed the extra point.

The Colts nipped the Browns 6-0 when quarterback J. B. Fitzgerald hit Steve Green on a 50 yard pass-and-run play.

Schedule

The AJFL's 17th season concludes this Sunday afternoon with another tripleheader at the East Junior High.

The Dolphins face the Patriots in the 12 noon opener, followed by the Vikings vs. Browns and the Redskins vs. Colts. The Colts will naturally be out to spoil the Skins' attempt for a perfect season.

Scoring Race

Chris Coots, the speedy Vikings' half-back, has the individual scoring title all but wrapped up after collecting five touchdowns the past two weeks. His 36 points are well ahead of runner-up Jim Terrion's 19.

Rounding out the scoring leaders are Joe Keefe and Robbie Harrison with 18 points apiece, Mark Jensen 13, and 12 each for Mike Lucey, Chris Scarpa, Chris Cormier and Steve Green.

TD pass on the next play.

Manny Silva booted his fourth conversion of the game and 16th on the season to complete the offense, 34-12.

Stats

Andover held statistical edges in first downs, 16-12, yards rushing, 237-209, yards passing, 185-81, interceptions, 2-1, and total yardage from scrimmage, 422-290.

Lawrence led in scrimmage plays, 69-56, and penalty yardage, 73-50.

Johnson was 5-for-20 passing, and Hambleton averaged a fine 43.2 yards for six punts.

Manny Silva averaged 49.6 yards for five kickoffs.

Welsh, who has now rushed for close to 500 yards this season, had his 127 on 14 carries. Rick Collins added 41 yards in five lugs, Ray Lynch a net 34 in four totes, Greg Gardner 14 in three rushes, Ed Collins 13 in five, and Paul Dubose nine in one carry.

Pass Up A Pension?

If you work for a company that has an optional pension plan, and you feel you can set aside a lot more toward your retirement than the company contributes, consider an IRA account in lieu of the company pension. Weigh the advantages, though, of free company contributions versus a larger tax shelter and bigger retirement fund.

Ames, Iowa, population 43,000, is the only U. S. city that gets power for electricity by burning garbage, Massachusetts Audubon tells us.

Terrion trailed Farnham in receptions with two for 44 yards.

Chelmsford

In Coach Tom Caito's Chelmsford crew, Andover will be facing a team that has chalked up four shutouts, allowed only 13 points in the MVC and 21 points overall in seven games.

The Lions a 5-1-1 including non-league action.

Chelmsford opened with an 8-8 tie against a strong Lowell High team.

The victories have come against Austin Prep (24-0), Lawrence (3-0 in the rain), Lawrence Central (15-0), Tewksbury (9-6) and last weekend Wilmington (10-0).

The only loss was against Dracut, 7-0.

Chelmsford has experienced some problems generating an offense, but first-year quarterback Kevin Attar is a good thrower and the running back corps includes veterans Joe Sullivan, Joe Gamache, former QB Chip Drapeau and Pete Lindbom.

Tackle Bill Marcin, Mark Doherty and Mike Chuma have keyed the stingy defense.

Last year Andover outslugged the always big, physical Lions 27-21, but CHS reeled off five straight victories thereafter and since that time has gone 10-1-1.

On Babson Team

Nancy Hinman has completed the 1977 season as a member of the Babson College women's tennis team. The resident of Andover played well for Babson and she finished the season with a .600 winning percentage in doubles play. Her play was a big reason why the Babson team had a 5-2 record this season. This record is even more impressive when one considers that this was the first year of varsity competition for the women's tennis team at Babson. A graduate of Andover High School, she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hinman of 8 Forbes Lane in Andover.

Open Gym Cancelled

The Andover Recreation Community Schools Department's Open Gym program at the East Junior High school will be cancelled on Wednesday, Nov. 16 due to a parents' meeting to be held there that evening. The program will continue as scheduled the following weeks.

The so-called beach porcupines found on New England shores are hard-packed balls of twigs and grasses blown along by the wind for many miles. As the ball goes along, it picks up other material and adds to itself, just like a rolling snowball. — From "Life in the Shifting Dunes," a Museum of Science publication.

A YBL Hoop Registration

The Andover Youth Basketball League announces registration dates for its third season. Player registrations will be conducted at the West Junior H.S. cafeteria from 6:30-8:30 p.m. next Tuesday and Thursday, Nov. 8 and 10.

The AYBL will again provide a complete basketball program thru next March. Over 600 players have participated during the past two seasons. Until this season players ages 8 thru 15 were eligible. This season the league will add a new division, the Open Division, for players thru age 18 if interest warrants. This division will play on Sunday evenings.

In addition to regular divisional team play, the AYBL conducts an invitational Spring tournament and individual one-on-one and foul shooting tournaments for all league players. An awards banquet traditionally wraps up activities.

Any Andover resident age 8 thru 18 is eligible to participate. League age is determined as of Jan. 1, 1978. All players registering will be assigned to teams. There are no player cuts in the AYBL. The league also features minimum play rules. Everyone plays at least one quarter of each game without substitution.

Registration fees have been reduced for this season due to a most successful fund raising drive last year. The registration fee includes a team jersey which the player keeps and all game and tournament activities. Fees are as follows: Instructional Division - $5; and Intermediate and Senior Divisions - $10. The maximum fee per family is $20. The rate structure for the Open Division is dependent upon the level of player interest. Any young person who has a problem meeting the registration fee should contact the league president. Financial problems will not prevent anyone from participating.

The AYBL is a non-profit organization of volunteers. Openings exist in all areas — administration, coaching and officiating. All interested persons, including teenagers, are welcome to join the program.

All players must register, including those who participated last season. Proof of age is required for first-time registrants only. Registration forms are available at the Andover Hockey Shop.

Questions may be directed to the league's president, Neil Zimmerman, 13 Blood Road.

Tennis Tourney Winners

After many weekends of rain caused delays, most of the winners in this year's Andover Recreation Community Schools Tennis Tournament, have been determined. Competition was divided into ten classes and has been completed in all but the Men's Advanced Singles and Men's Advanced Doubles categories.

Due to the uncooperative weather, this year's tournament was postponed for longer than originally anticipated. Changes in tournament structure, such as dispersing competition in the various classes throughout the summer or getting sponsors to contribute indoor court time for the late round matches, are under consideration for next season.

The Recreation Community Schools Department would like to thank all tournament participants for their patience throughout the competition as well as to remind both finalists in each competing class that their trophies are available at the office at this time.

Tournament winners were as follows:

Women's Novice Intermediate Singles: 1. Peront (6-2/6-3) 2. Rozelle.

Women's Novice Intermediate Doubles: 1. Peront/Zinck (6-1/6-3) 2. Comporato/Messler.

Women's Intermediate Advanced Singles: 1. Getterman (6-4/6-4) 2. Boucher.

Women's Intermediate Advanced Doubles: 1. Jaffe/McClosky (7-6/6-1) 2. Bryce/Engstrom.

Men's Intermediate Singles: 1. Dileso (6-4/6-3) 2. Schapira.

Men's Intermediate Doubles: 1. Dileso/Mirabella (6-4/1-6/6-4) 2. Accomando/Wooster.

Workshops Planned

Anyone wishing to register may call the office. Students will purchase materials which will cost between $3-$5.

An all day Painting Workshop for Adults, Saturday, Nov. 19 will be held at the West Junior High from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. The day will proceed as follows: first, a three hour slide lecture giving the immediate antecedents of Impressionism, the major examples by the artists of the 20th century.

On The Soccer Fields

by She Livermore

What a great weekend for any outdoor sports enthusiast, as well as gardeners hoping to get ahead on the falling leaves!

The Soccer League managed to bring its fall schedule up to date as most teams played Saturday and Sunday games. The season will end next weekend and final team standings will be published in this column. Results of the weekend's games are as follows:

Junior Division:

Metros 1 — WhiteCaps 1

The Metros in their rematch with the White Caps played a much stronger game and demonstrated the soccer skills they have learned from Coaches Stanton, Nelligan and Smith. Neither team scored more than one goal but they both made many attempts to do so. The Metros' goal was booted in by Jody Myntinen whilst Richard Bordelais evened it up for the WhiteCaps. Fine performances were turned in by David Clark, Michael Corkery and goalie Scott Powers of the Metros, as well as Bill Buehner and Robb Schmidt of the WhiteCaps.

Aztecs 4 — BiCentennials 0

The Aztecs played against the BiCentennials and demonstrated some great soccer skills to the credit of Coaches O'Brien, Mencis, Brink and Corbett, which in final analysis won them the victory. The goals were booted in by Ronnie Forbes (2), Kyle McCabe and Scott Brink. Fine performances were turned in by Chris DiClemente and Matthew Corbett of the Aztecs, as well as the entire BiCentennials team.

Cosmos 5 — Sounders 0

The Cosmos came on very strong in their game against the Sounders and despite great effort, the Sounders were unable to thwart the Cosmos' players determination to score goals. The Cosmos goals were booted in by Joseph Lyons, Mark Neaves, Chris Sapuppo, Matthew DellaCroce and James Mackay. Fine performances were turned in by Matthew McKinnon, David Pratt and David Flanders of the Cosmos, as well as the entire Sounders team.

Cosmos 4 — Metros 1

The Cosmos and the Metros kept the ball moving up and down the field in their game and provided many exciting moments for the numerous spectators. Both teams played very well but the Cosmos were able to score more goals to give them the win. The Cosmos goals were booted in by Chris Sapuppo (2) and Mark Neaves (2), whilst Nicky Coon scored for the Metros. Fine performances were turned in by Brian Cronin, Derek Holmes and Jonathan Finn of the Metros, as well as the entire Cosmos team who played an outstanding game to the credit of Coaches Tucker, DellaCroce and Alden.

the ball passing back and forth as both teams attempted to penetrate each other's goal area. The WhiteCaps were successful once when Eric McDowell booted one in, however, the Aztecs managed to score three goals (Kyle McCabe (2) and Beth Ostrowski) to give them the winning points. Fine performances were turned in by Eric Jedrzejek, Steven Mencis and goalies Scott Brink and Jamie O'Brien of the Aztecs, as well as Gregg Kinsky, Andy Lascher and Goalie Richard Bordelais of the WhiteCaps.

Intermediate Division:

Rowdies 5 — Timbers 3

The Rowdies won the points in their rematch with the Timbers but the real heroes were the coaches (Novelline, Penner, Corbett-Rowdies; Mill, Ostrowski, Ashworth and Poisson-Timbers) as both teams demonstrated their skills and played a superb game. The Timbers played their best game of the season and the Rowdies met the challenge! The Rowdies goals were booted in by Fran Sullivan (2), Brian Novelline, Ted McEnroe and Tom Bride (penalty kick), whilst Steve McDowell, John Drake and Brian McAnnally (penalty kick) scored for the Timbers. Fine performances were turned in by all the parents who cheered from the sidelines encouraging their offspring to give their all!

Lancers 2 — Tornadoes 2

The Lancers played against the Tornadoes in a very exciting game, which saw both teams evenly matched and looking to score goals for the win. The Lancers took the lead by scoring two goals in the first half, however, the Tornadoes came on strong in the second half and evened it up, making it a tie game. The Lancers goals were booted in by Jeff Smith and David Keene, whilst Zack Apgar and Andrew Sartory scored for the Tornadoes. Fine performances were turned in by Ed Melia and Scott MacNamara of the Tornadoes, as well as Craig Sorrie and Goalie David Keene of the Lancers.

Rowdies 7 — Kicks 0

The Rowdies dominated the play in their game against the Kicks although the Kicks certainly worked hard in their defensive area in an effort to stop the Rowdies from scoring, unsuccessfully. The goals were booted in by Fran Sullivan (3), Lucky Koffman, Ted McEnroe, Danny Sheehan and Tom Bride (penalty kick). Fine performances were turned in by Steward Hannah, Paul Gilmartin and Matthew McManus of the Rowdies, as well as the whole Kicks team.

Senior Division:

Stings 2 — Strikers 0

The Stings gave the Strikers their first loss of the season in a very exciting game, which saw both teams working hard to gain possession of the ball and penetrate the goal area. The Strikers made many great attempts to score, all of them stopped cold by some breathtaking saves by goalie Brian Bedell who was awarded the shut-out. The Stings managed to boot two goals into the Strikers nets, although goalie Mark Edgar made some beautiful saves. The Stings goals were scored by Make Franz and Peter Bradford. Fine performances were turned in by Chris Ober and Tony Romano of the Stings, as well as Mike Walsh, Bill Depper and Mark Edgar of the Strikers.

Quicksilvers 2 — Earthquakes 0

The Quicksilvers took a strong offensive position in the early stages of their game against the Earthquakes, although they found the competition tough as the game progressed. The Earthquakes played a great game but they could not prevent the Quicksilvers from scoring two goals for the win. The goals were booted in by Chris Eagen and Tom Kinsky whilst Goalie Mark Bowen is credited with the shut-out. Fine performances were turned in by Dan Boland and Scott Arnold of the Quicksilvers, as well as Sean Pershing, Eric Ren and Eric Swift of the Earth-

Division IV:

Andover Diplomats 2 — Hamilton 1

Andover Diplomats 0

Andover Stars 0

The Andover Diplomats and their parents travelled down to Hamilton on Saturday and played a very good game against that town's all-girls team. Hamilton concentrated its strength in the defense area and Andover had to work very hard to penetrate Hamilton's goal zone and then score. Andover was successful eventually and booted home two goals to Hamilton's one, giving them the victory. The goals were booted in by Julie Kinsky and Kelly Shannon, who subsequently suffered an injury which removed her from play.

It's just a wonderful car.

We had an advantage: we started with a wonderful car and made it even better.

Over a million people all over the world have been impressed enough to buy them.

What's so impressive?

Easy. If you trade up to a Rabbit from a Mercedes-Benz 280E, believe it or not you'll get better acceleration.†

If you trade up to a Rabbit from a Cadillac Seville, you'll get more trunk space. And there are 32 cars you can trade up to a Rabbit for more people space.*

The '78 Rabbits look better than ever, too. Handsome metallic colors. Touches of chrome here and there to make them even snappier.

The biggest news of all for '78 can't be seen. And barely heard. We've refined the Rabbit's fuel-injected engine to make it quieter and more efficient.

Once we were famous for making a car that looked ridiculous.

Now we make one that makes the others look ridiculous.

CORRECTION

Last week Hunneman & Co., Inc. ran a full page ad in the Townsman. Unfortunately, the Halloween Goblins got into the act and there was a mistake made in the first line of the copy. The first line should have read: "WHAT HAVE WE BEEN DOING LATELY?" So do us a favor and dig out last week's paper — before you recycle it — and reread our ad — with the correct heading. Now it all makes sense!

WE HAVE HOMES IN ALL PRICE RANGES FROM:

$41,000 A cute Cape, expandable to 3 bedrooms. Neat as a pin. There is a fireplaced living room, dining room, eat-in kitchen, bedroom, bath, down. A large bright, sunny enclosed porch is a possible future family room. Garage — Better than paying rent.

TO:

$120,000 Redone 9 room Victorian with 4 bedrooms, 2½ baths, Library with fireplace plus family room, 30 ft. living room — must be seen — a beautiful home near Phillips Academy.

Contest Participants

Pre-schoolers participating in Halloween costume contest at Shawsheen school Monday night were, from left, Michael D'Augustino, Craig Black, Patrick Harding and Sarah Wallace.

Town Topics

a 12 to 15 percent turnover in one year because of the benefit.

Mrs. Viehmann also reported that a representative from the governor's office said his number one priority in education is funding. She said a bill will be coming up which says that no town will get any less than it got this year. No one, however, discussed where the funds would be coming from.

She said every school committeeman she talked to has a professional negotiator to deal with teacher's contracts, and that one panel member felt school committeemen shouldn't attend negotiating sessions at all, much less represent themselves.

The Andover committee, which does, has a negotiating session with teachers tonight.

Times Have Changed

Chairman David Ahouse said he felt the general attitude of school committeemen at the M.A.S.C. session was of "frustration and anger," and Seifert added that he felt 85 percent of the content of the agenda was legal issues.

He called that "a sad state of affairs," noting that when he first came to Massachusetts in 1969, there were healthy discussions about educational issues and students were "all over the programs."
